Hi Edwin,

I have not received a response from our application labs that they are willing to do the application testing for us. I have a request into our marketing department to help get some momentum behind my request. I will push for a response today and provide additional details tomorrow.

Thanks for holding onto this instrument for me. I want to make sure someone is willing to do the testing I need before the instrument is shipped.

Thank You,

Subject: 2475 Detector for Purchase (Borrowed Inventory)

Hi Edwin,

I would like to purchase an instrument for application testing. I was reviewing the data and I would like to know if C18475127G is available? According to the records it passed final manufacturing tests on 4/10/2018.

My plan is to do some application testing and then return it back to stock. I will be going through our borrowed inventory process.

Please let me know if this is available and I will provide you with an account number.

Thank You,

Nicholas Szwaja
